Chamber lauds top local businesses

The St. Tammany West Chamber appreciates our business community. That is why every year, for the past ten years, we ask the citizens of St. Tammany to tell us which businesses have made an impression on our parish and should be considered for the chamber's prestigious Business Appreciation Awards.

Nominations were collected and the votes were tallied. This year's award winners were: Daigle Fisse & Kessenich and Piazza Architecture Planning (tied) for the Site to See Award, recognizing businesses that enhance the appearance of the community; Home Instead Senior Care and The Conservatory of Ballet Aviv (tied) for the All in the Family Award, given to establishments that are a successful family-owned businesses; Lakeview Regional Medical Center for the High Tech Award, for being a leader in technological change; NOLA Lending Group for the EEIC (Encourages Employee Involvement in Community) Award; Liz's Where Y'at Diner for the Service with a Smile Award; and PUSH Design for the Out of the Gate Running Award, given to a business that has been in operation for less than three years and has positively contributed to the community. A special recognition award was also presented to the St. Paul's School Renaissance Program for their academic success and service to their students.

Award winners were announced at this past Wednesday's Business Appreciation Awards luncheon at the Clarion Inn and Suites in Covington, sponsored by Charter Business.
