

Louis Ochoa, Slidell business owner who is a Chamber board member, presented some brief info about membership during the event held on Carey Street in Olde Towne.

A ribbon cutting was held in front of the Chamber office at 2220 Carey Street.

Chamber event reminiscent of the good old days

The St. Tammany Chamber gave local business men and women a chance for something most of them have missed much of this year—a face-to-face networking opportunity. The Chamber hosted an open house in front of their local office on Carey Street in Olde Towne and had a great turnout of business leaders who were clearly happy to enjoy some food, drinks and fellowship after those kind of events have been cancelled for seven months due to the Coronavirus. The Chamber has remained active throughout the pandemic, offering much needed advice for businesses throughout personal staff members, or regular online videos and seminars. They are currently open to new members joining and can give businesses more information if you call the Slidell office at 985-892-3216 or visit them online at:

sttammanychamber.org

Megan Haggerty with the Chamber with David Hursey.

Calandra Corder with Pope John Paul and Robert Troyer with Legend's Barber Shop.

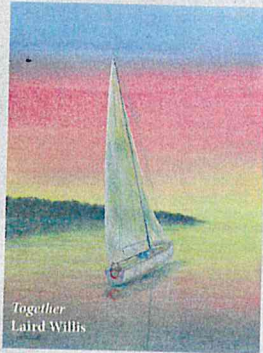

Elizabeth Lee with St. Tammany Corporation, Rustin Legendre, St. Tammany Corporation CEO Chris Masingill and Leah Long.

The City of Slidell presents

SLIDELL ART LEAGUE'S Artists of the Year

2020 MASTER ARTIST
Laird Willis

2020 APPRENTICE
ARTIST
Esther Trosclair

2020 INSPIRATIONAL
ARTIST
Cheryl Harrison

November 13 - December 18, 2020
Slidell Cultural Center at City Hall
Wednesdays - Fridays, 12 - 4 PM

Gallery hours are by appointment only. Call (985) 646-4375
to make a reservation. Same day viewings as available.

Middendorf's Seafood
Restaurant G.M. Winn Whitner
(left) and owner Karen Pfeifer.

Dr. Jember Robinson and Jenna Mizoll with Ochsner Health Systems.

Jim and Deanna Lamz, Pam and James Franklin.

Renee Warren with Pinewood Plantation, Donna Bach with Pizza Platoon, Louis Ochoa with The Sadie Jane, and Miranda Parker and Cheryl Scaglione with Hospice House.

Staff photos by Kevin Chiri